

Act regarding specialist health care and more 2. july 1999 nr. 61 § 6-1.

Confidentiality and limitations to sound- and visual recordings

Confidentiality in hospitals is part of Norwegian law. Anyone who visits Sunnaas Rehabilitation Hospital due to a paid or unpaid assignment/project or job beyond a one-time visit, are subject to uphold confidentiality, including students, hospitants, provider of services, and anyone else who has an assignment at the hospital.

Upholding confidentiality entails not to convey any information to others that could reveal the identity of a patient or contribute to being able to identify a patient, including information in writing, speech, pictures, video or sound recording, or any other recording. Confidentiality also includes any information or insights about the hospital you gain through your visit, and is still your responsibility even after your assignment at the hospital has ended. Breach of confidentiality may lead to criminal liability.

For the sake of our patients, relatives and employees, all recordings have to be approved in advance by the hospitals Student Coordinator or by the Communications Department. This includes photo, video and sound recordings. Own procedures apply when patients are to be photographed or recorded. Address your request or demand for more information to info@sunnaas.no.

Sign and deliver this declaration to the person who coordinates your assignment at Sunnaas Rehabilitation Hospital. For future reference the declaration will be kept in the hospitals archive.

I hereby confirm that I have read and understood, and accept my responsibility towards keeping the hospitals confidentiality.
