

Seminar and webinar
Turner Syndrome and Peridontal EDS

April 24, 2017

Place:
Forskningsbygget (Glassbygget)
Radiumhospitalet, Oslo

Clinicians and researchers from USA and Norway will participate and give lectures

Specially invited guests:

Peter Byers,
Professor of Pathology and Medicine (Medical Genetics) and Director of the Collagen Diagnostic Laboratory and Center for Precision Diagnostics

and

Virginia Sybert,
MD and Clinical Professor, Division of Medical Genetics Department of Medicine, University of Washington.

Changes to the program may occur

- 08.30-09.00    Registration and coffee/tea
- 09.00-09.10    Welcome
Nina Riise, TRS Resource Centre for Rare Disorders
- 09.10-09.55    Turner syndrome: Natural history and transition of care for adults.
Virginia Sybert, University of Washington
- 09.55-10.10    Turner syndrome and pregnancy.
Virginia Sybert
- 10.10-10.20    Discussion
Virginia Sybert
- 10.20-10.35    Break: Fruit, coffee/tea
- 10.35-11.20    Health related quality of life in women with Turner syndrome
Krister Fjermestad, Frambu
- 11.50-12.00    Closing remarks.
- 12.00-13.00    Lunch/registration
- 13.00-13.05    Introduction
Nina Riise
- 13.05-14.05    Periodontal EDS results from missense mutations in C1S and C1R, which encode proteins in the classical complement pathway.
Peter Byers, University of Washington
- 14.05-14.20    Presentation of Norwegian participant groups
To be announced
- 14.20-14.35    Break: Fruit, coffee/tea
- 14.35-15.45    Discussion: Cooperation between professionals in time to come
- 15.45-16.00    Closing remarks

